

LOST WITHOUT YOU

Another night has gone
as I step into the dawn
Guided by the sounds of the church tower.
Rabbits on the run
try to hide in my lawn
eating through the freshness of your flowers

No consolation, no consolation
It's no consolation
I'm lost without you,
without you...

Underneath the trees
now I've reached the local graveyard,
Light years away from your last hour.
I can't control my fears as I see the royal day stars
your legacy: a million flowers

No consolation, no consolation
It's no consolation.

Memories feed stories,
memories after leaving me,
after leaving me for eternity....

Another night will come after fulfilling my obligations, introduced by the strikes of the bell tower.
Collect the toys in my lawn
as I take care of a new generation:
the everlasting seed of your dying flowers.

No consolation, no consolation
It's no consolation
I'm lost without you,
without you...

lonely days without you,
without you..
And the love inside, it never dies
lost without you....
Oh the love inside never dies
lost without you...
I'll never forget you...
