

PAINTING MY WORLD

The shape of clouds
depends on my mood.
And stars all around,
reflected by the moon...
Here's the night,
hold back the endless sky
from phtalo blue...

with colours that I choose
by myself on my own,
and gently I just drew
stones and hedgerows
in the latest style
with crimson white

Painting my world,
I do commit to the views inside my head.
Painting my world,
and never mind what other people said.....

The shade of clouds
comforts my soul.
And hills all around,
watch my rivers flow...
Leafless trees,
hold back the endless fields
from crimson red...

Painting my world,
I do commit to the views inside my head.
Painting my world,
and never mind what other people said...

Painting my world,
I do commit to the views inside my head.
Painting my world,
and never mind what other people said.....
Painting my world,
and never mind what other people said.....
Painting my world, my world

Painting my world,
I do commit to the views inside my head.
Painting my world,
and never mind what other people said....
